

“ Many would say that it was precisely within Unitarian Universalism that they became Christians. Within the theological freedom of our churches, they found the “space” to become Christians at their own rates. Within the historic faiths of Unitarianism and Universalism, they found the expression of a creative, vibrant, and believable liberal Christianity. Within the liberal churches’ traditions of social action, they sought and found a theological basis and a personal inspiration rooted in the ministry of Jesus. ”

CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP

freely following jesus

For 67 years, the UUCF has tended the flame of Christianity within the UUA. Today, we are called to provide spaces where we can:

- Transform our beliefs into action
- To make the teachings of Jesus available for UU's and all interested persons
- To aid churches and ministers in understanding the UUA's Christian heritage.

In just the last decade, we have furthered our ministry in many ways. Through Revivals, we spread UU Christian worship out across the country. Our expansion on the web and into social media now includes worship and Bible study materials, virtual monastery reflections, prayers and a well-stocked bookstore. UUCF publications have been developed to share worship ideas, prayers, and methods of connecting with others.

visions for our immediate future

living and breathing

Revivals bring vibrant Christian worship to the UU experience. Centering prayer workshops, small group studies, healing services, baptisms, taize worship and keynote speakers enrich our understanding of Christianity, Jesus' teachings and our sense of community. In New Orleans, October Revival 2013, we will focus our attention on missional service while continuing to foster regional gatherings, and further developing and networking small groups.

connecting with others

Our online ministry continues to grow and develop in ways that connect us more closely with one another and with God. Your generous donations will help us grow this online presence into a virtual church that will create a worldwide congregation of the church universal – a bridge for UU Christians to connect with our Christian brothers and sisters around the world.

feeding the soul

Our latest initiative, "The Liturgy Book", is a collection of worship and prayer materials from throughout the UU Christian world. Once published, our Liturgy Book will be an invaluable asset to the many small UUCF groups around the country.

walk the path with us

Together we are called to share the Good News. Participation comes in many forms and your involvement is beyond value. We have shifted from a yearly subscriber model to a freely given call for generous support. We invite you to walk the path with us to create an even greater movement to share with the multitude.
